

Meet Ken Racen, New Head of Service

Ken Racen is the newest manager to join BC Group International as the new Head of Service. Since starting with BC Group in November, Ken's primary focus has been getting to know the team members, learning about company procedures and processes and identifying areas that need improvement. Ken has a seasoned background in calibration, with 39 years of experience. Starting at a young age in the metrology industry, Ken learned all he could about electronics, including calibration and repair of measuring and test equipment from veteran metrologists.
